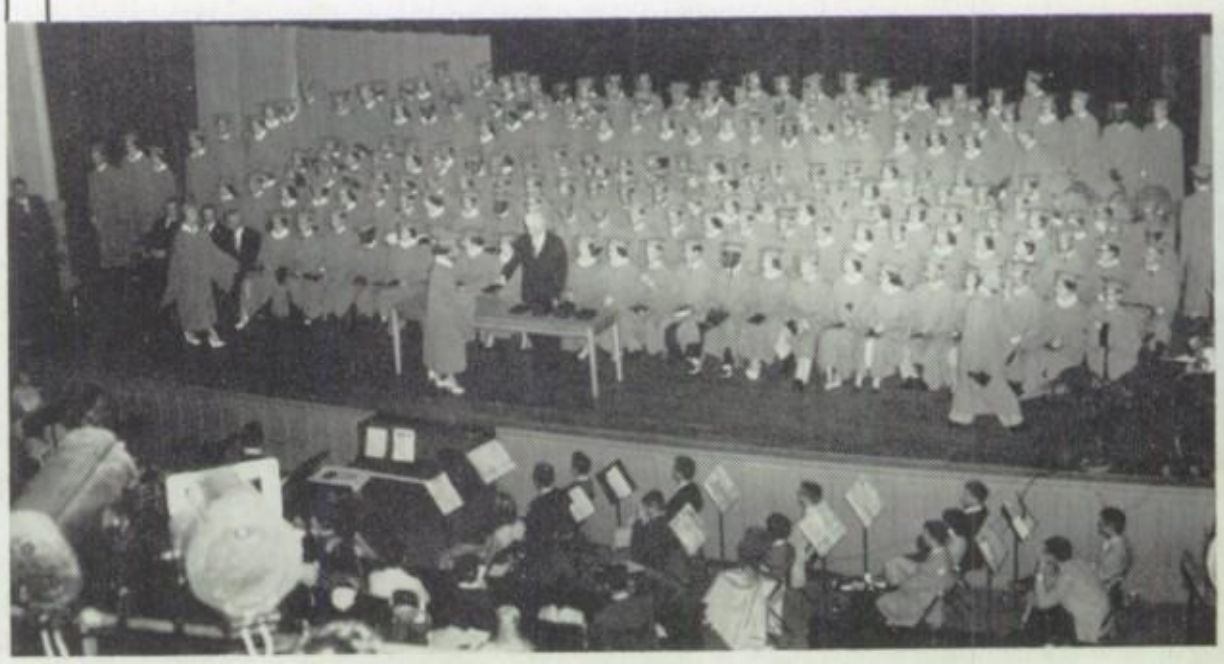
The

Trojan

of 1956

Published by East High School
Waterloo, Iowa

"Cheer, cheer for East Waterloo,
Wake up the echoes cheering for you.
Send a volley cheer on high;
Shake down the thunder from the sky.
What though the odds be great or small,
East Waterloo will win over all
While her loyal sons are marching
Onward to victory!"



For thirty-eight years seniors have been receiving diplomas from this stage at East High School in the traditional ceremony. Members of the 1956 class will join these from 1955 as alumni who will call the Halls of Troy their alma mater.

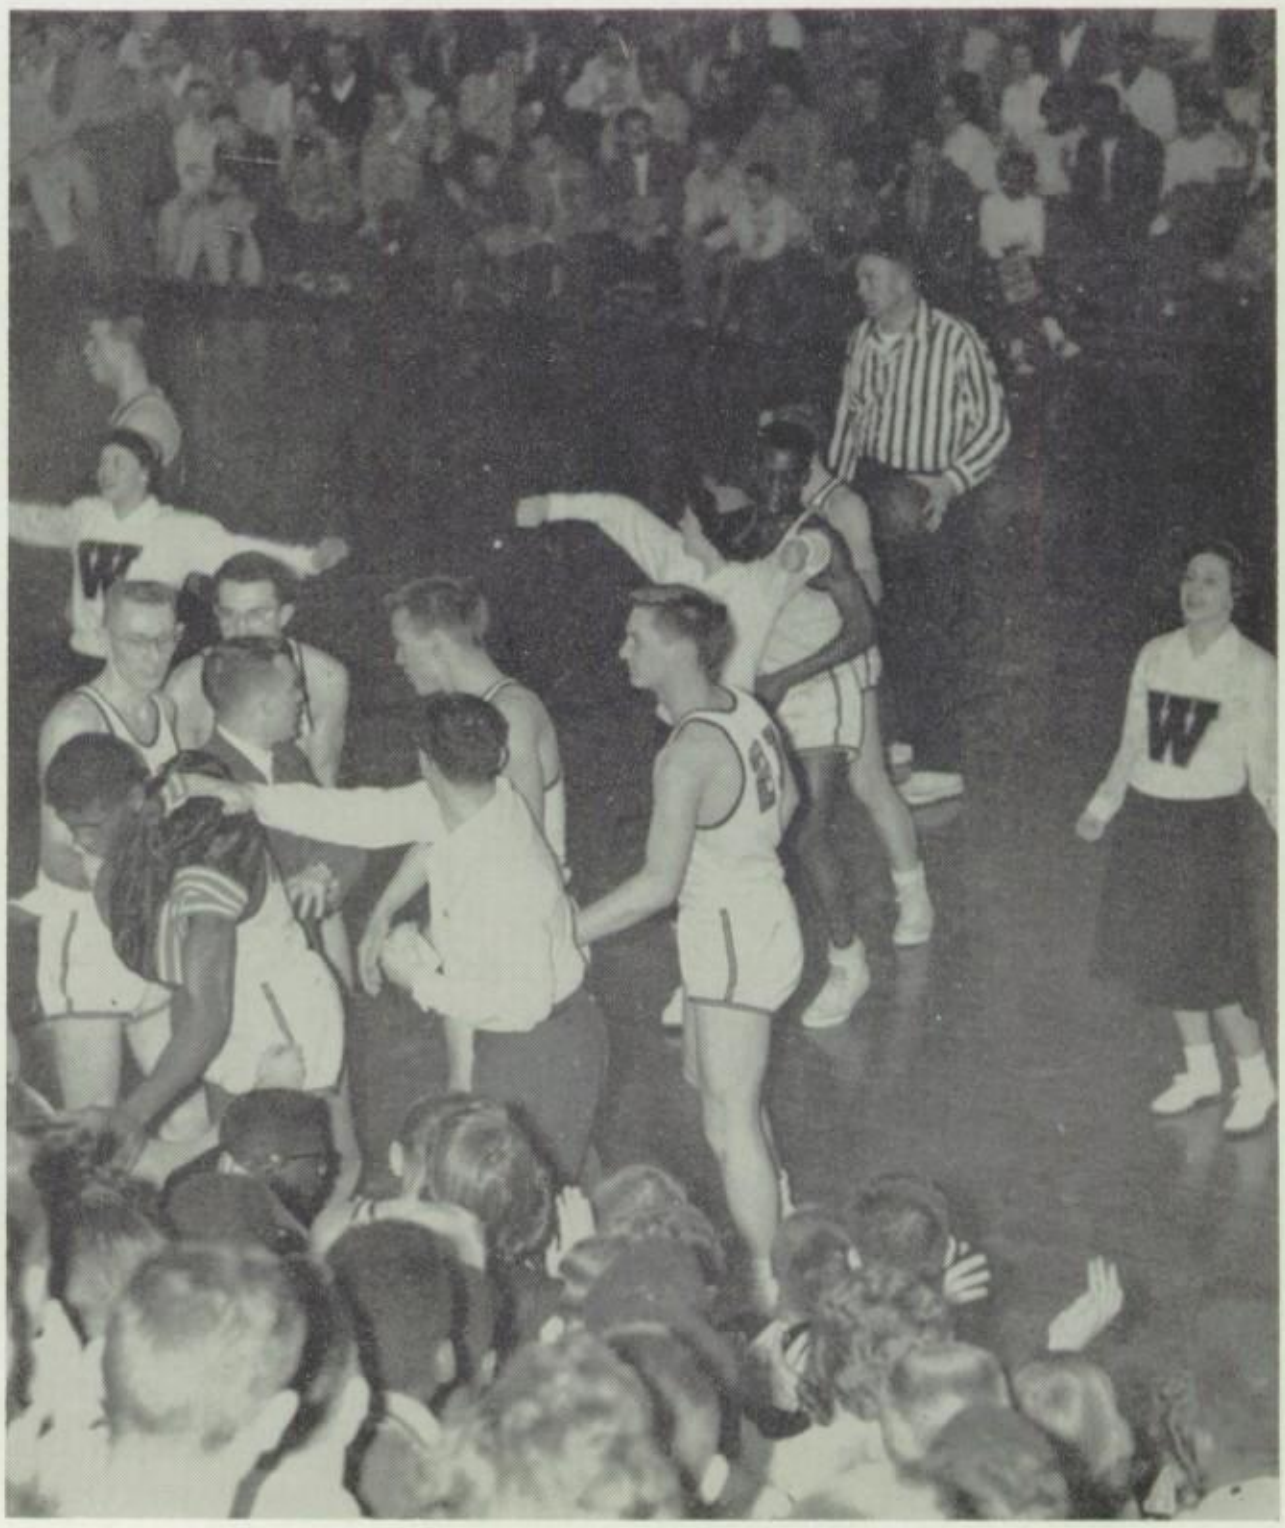
With the remodeled cafeteria came the introduction of the split lunch hour. Now an average of seven hundred students eat here daily.

Enthusiasm for Troyland

The cheerleaders and student body gave spirited support to the basketball team as it gained a victory over Mason City to capture the Big Six title.

With music from the "Nativity," the a cappella choir entertained the Rotary Club and their guests at their annual Christmas party held at Black's Tea Room.

Hits New High



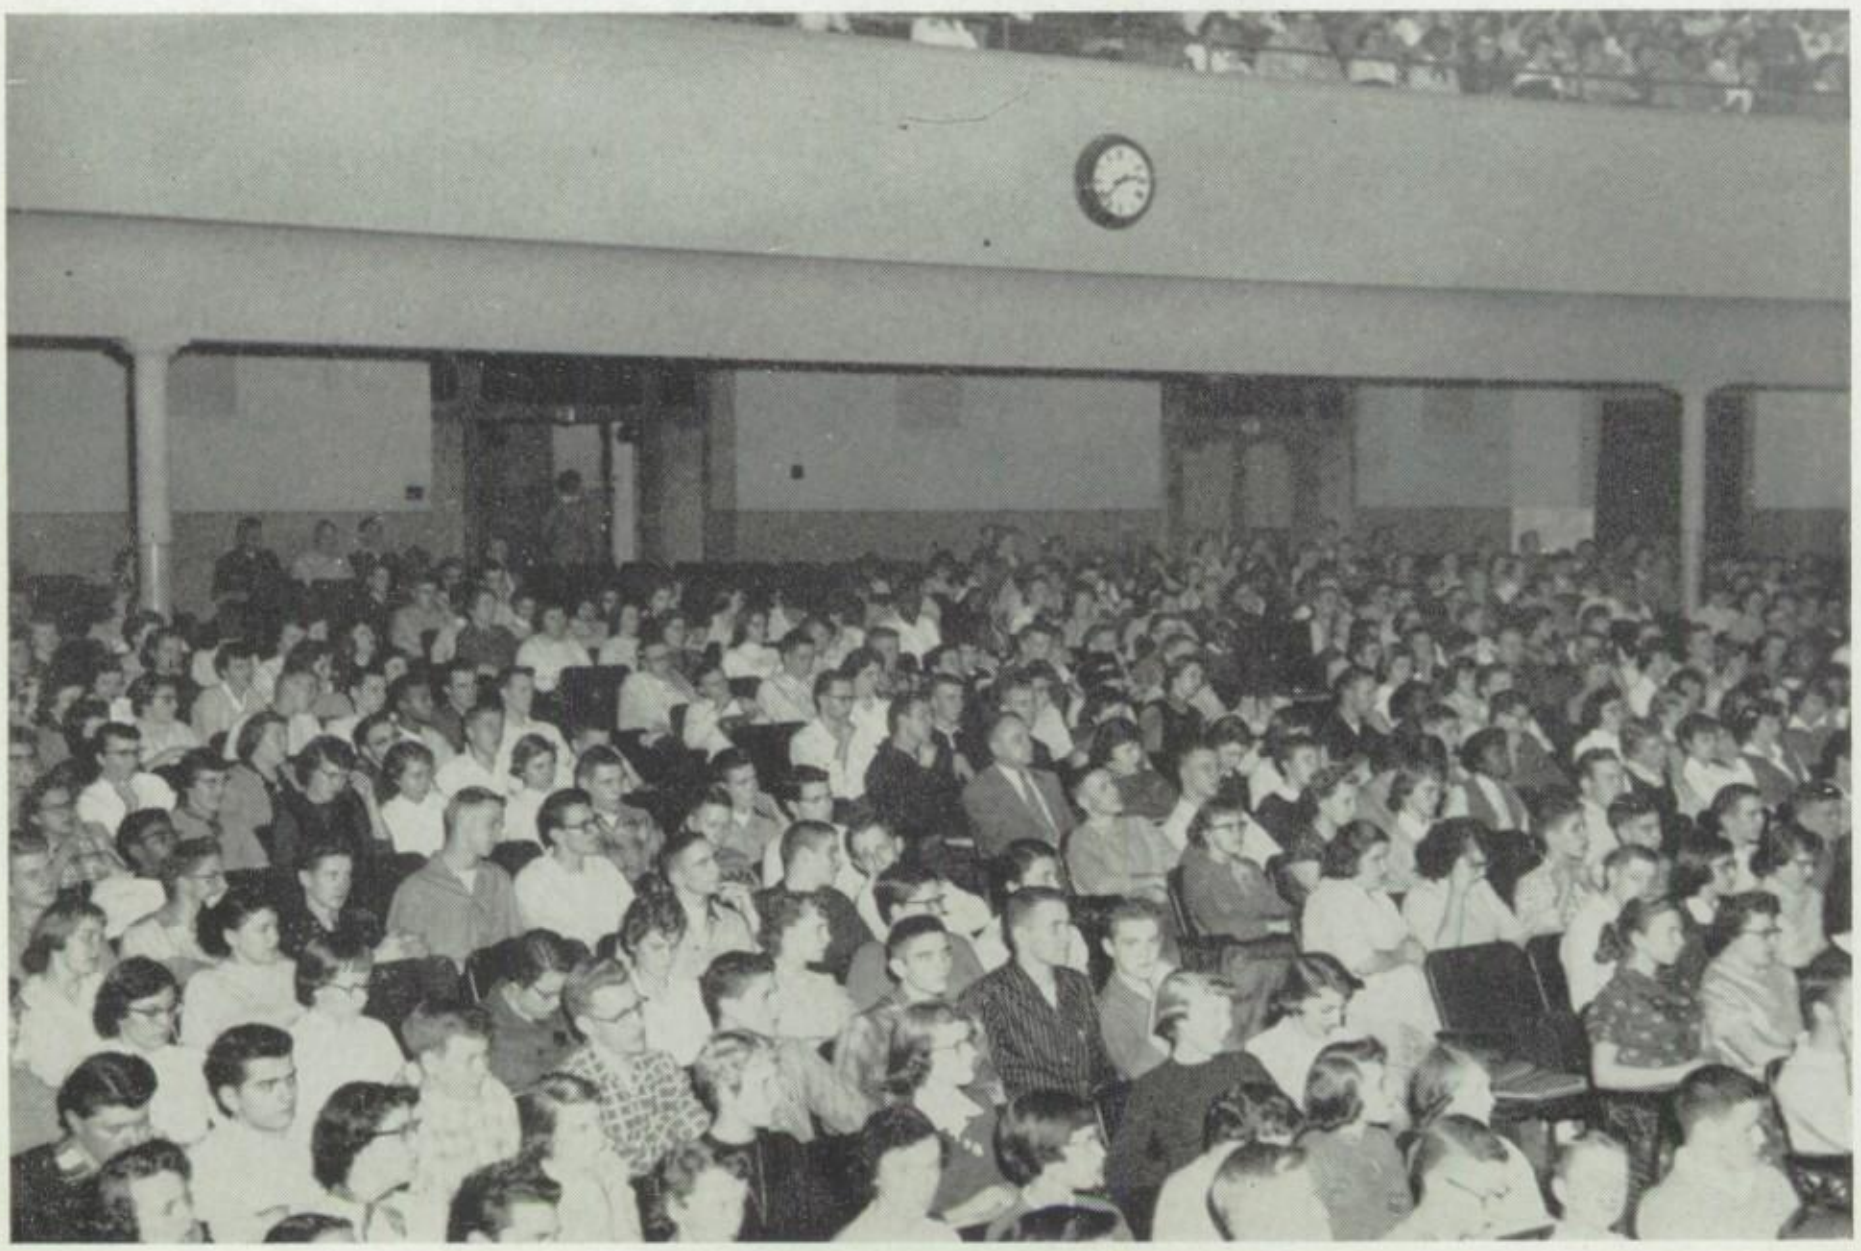
At a time-out during the Mason City game Coach Murray Wier talks strategy to his cagesters.

The Three "R's" And More

Housed at East High is a six hundred thirty-seven reel film library. Here Melva Miller, a co-op student, files visual aid equipment in the department.

More than four hundred visitors toured the East print shop when it held open house. There the public saw the kind of machines the boys work with and the type of printing they produce.

Members of the student body listen intently to panel members as they discuss good citizenship in one of the weekly programs in the auditorium.



Academic work is important at East, too. Scholarship rates recognition by membership in the Olympiad Club. To qualify, a student must maintain a three-point average.

One of the most popular dramatic productions at East is the annual presentation of the "Nativity." Here Wayne Rasmussen and Joyce Speicher portray the roles of Joseph and Mary.

Rate Recognition

It's all work and no play when East students explore the world of books in the library and the study hall.

Council members check their notes carefully during their Monday morning session to be sure they include important points discussed and decisions reached. Room 205 was the scene of their 7:45 meetings on alternate Monday mornings.

Student Representatives

With Jim Patterson as president, the Student Council scored a banner year. Other officers included Vic Walters, vice-president; Donna Musgrove, treasurer; and Carol Kemmerer, secretary.

The first and third Monday mornings found the council busy planning activities for the student body. Besides these regular morning meetings the council held a two-hour session once a month during alternating periods. After these meetings the thirty representatives went to homerooms and reported the business of the meetings.

Before using a film in a citizenship auditorium program, the council president and Citizenship Committee members take advantage of a sneak preview.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Second Row: Sandra Bothun, Kay Dobson, Beverly Moulds, Joe Ohl, Bob Dyer, William Robbins, Donna Buzzard, Sharon Burke, Dorathy Miller, Carol Reedy.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Working through its six sub-committees the council accomplished innumerable worthwhile projects. They sponsored the Unus Rogans Drive, ticket sales for the spring and fall plays, the activity book sale, and the annual sales campaign. In addition they built a strong sense of loyalty within the student body and an awareness of the importance of democratic activity.

Miss Edna Lenicek was the faculty advisor for the council. Advising committees were Donald Davidson, Miss Gertrude Boeyink, Mrs. Eleanor Ketcham, Austin Perego, Miss Marjorie Laubscher, Miss Florence Black, George Leebl, Mrs. LaVonne Cady and Miss Esther Oleson.

A familiar figure at all the auditoriums is vice-president and chairman of the Auditorium Committee, Vic Walters. He took the role of presiding officer and introduced the varied programs to the student body.

Second Row: Beverly Hudson, Ron Geisler, Ed Schlachtenhaufen, Bette Shutte, Dave Hennessey, Don Thompson, Dean Kelsen, Gretchen Marx, Peg Strohm, Diane Artus.

Fight Forward

The halls of Troy echoed the theme "Fight Forward" as returning alumni were the traditional guests throughout the Homecoming activities. Festivities started with the auditorium preceding the annual grid game and ended with the dance following the game.

Homecoming auditorium sparked students' enthusiasm for the annual game. Featured speaker was former athletic director Tom Lind.

Crepe paper draped the halls and thundering players guarded the doors in preparation for Homecoming activities.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE

Second Row: Alice Holdiman, Donna Buzzard, Janice Rodger, Dave Hennessey, Don Westemeier, Vic Walters, Sherry LeMoine, Lady Ford, Dorathy Miller.

Third Row: Judy Nicolaus, Peg Strohm, Julie Sims, Mike McKinstry, Allen Podhaski, Joyce Kollman, Carol Palmer, Lois Neessen, Charlene Walton.

Panel members Bill Willard, Jim Patterson, Janice Adams, Joyce Speicher and Dick Grove acquaint the students with the basic qualities required of a good citizen.

Dressed in hilarious costumes, members of the Auditorium Committee boosted pep and enthusiasm by presenting a victory skit.

Programs Prove Stimulating

The Auditorium Committee, under the guidance of Vic Walters, provided a variety of auditorium programs. Programs in the auditorium ran the gamut from the serious to the satirical note. One of the more thought-provoking programs grew out of the discussion this panel presented on citizenship. Students showed their talents in auditoriums presented by East High's musicians and dramatists. Speakers shared their knowledge with us and helped us honor our outstanding students.

AUDITORIUM COMMITTEE

Second Row: Judy Bruch, Pat McKinstry, Ronnie Charlton, Brian Willhite, Fred Allen, Tony Anderson, Peggy Strohm.

Third Row: Jane Kuttler, Beverly Moulds, Jo Ann Schmidt, Mike McKinstry, Duane Granneman, Bob Anderson, Bob Dyer, Judy Eldridge.

Alerting students to the coming social events, the Publicity and Promotions Committee displayed posters such as this one publicizing the Hallowe'en party, Mystic Masquerade.

Publicity Promotes Interest

Under the proficient leadership of Cheryl Brown, the Publicity and Promotions Committee successfully alerted the student body and the public to the events at East.

Through their posters, skits and sensations, the committee achieved valued results as indicated by the excellent attendance at activities throughout the year.

Committee chairman Cheryl Brown and member Judy Nelson distribute posters promoting the annual "Pops" Concert.

PUBLICITY AND PROMOTIONS COMMITTEE

Second Row: Sharon Burke, JoAnne Netley, Joyce Kollman, Deanna Smith, Betty Denning, Joe Ohl, Sherry LeMoine, Francis Michaelsen, Julie Sims, Gary Rosenkrans, Judy Day.

Third Row: Roy Phillips, Terry Schneider, Ken Koontz, Dave Hennessey, Dean Kelsen, Allen Podhaski, Betty Cole, Bernice Tooman, Donna Garwood, Sharlene Thompson.

Trojan Merrymaking

The refreshment table was a popular place at the formal Christmas party.

The Social Committee kicked off its activities with a party welcoming the sophomores. Activity Night, a formal Christmas party and a Dogpatch Sock Hop created festive moods for East party-goers. Trojan Capers, the all-school party, topped all attendance records by drawing 350 students.

Joyce Speicher, chairman, expertly led the committee through a busy and successful year.

Crime didn't pay for party-goers at Activity Night. Fun was frequently interrupted by trips to the jail, one of the concessions sponsored by the homerooms.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Second Row: Pat Gunnell, Donna Buzzard, Elcina Ackerman, Lady Ford, Charlene Walton, William Robbins, Dick Franke, Bette Schutte, Judy Drew, Carole Dunn, Bonnie Bjornson, Janice Rodger.

Guiding the Newcomer

Marilyn Holdgrafer, Jane Burke, Karen Sheeley and Karen Mohs find that addressing the committee's Christmas cards is no small job.

"It's so much more fun when you know how" might well be the theme for this party for all those students who had taken Orientation Committee-sponsored dancing lessons.

The program provided for assigning each committee member as a guide to a new student to show him around school. To close the three-day orientation program in the fall the group sponsored a picnic at Gates Park.

The committee also sent Christmas cards to the concerns in Waterloo with which the school does business, city public schools, the school board, custodians, cafeteria personnel and all schools we have played in athletic contests.

Under the expert direction of Dick Grove the committee was extremely successful.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

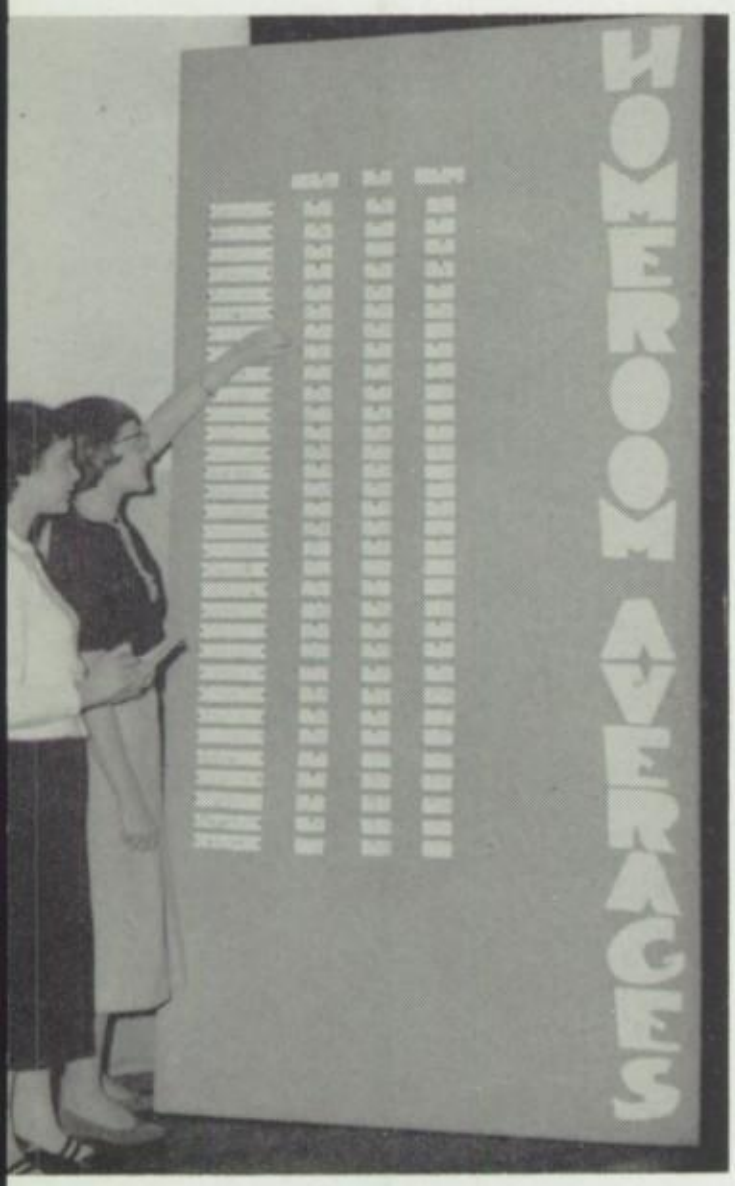
Third Row: Darlene Neith, Marilyn Holdgrafer, Jane Burke, Janet Foggy, Sharon Scully, Karen Sheeley, Sylvia Janes.

Creating Good Citizens

These tables in the hall fairly groaned with the weight of food generous Eastonians donated in the annual Christmas drive. Citizenship Committee chairman Bill Willard, Karen Mohs and Annette Puhl tabulate donations to be given to the Salvation Army.



Scholastic competition among the homerooms created better study habits and higher grade point averages. Sophomores Sharon Baker and Marlene Smith look to see where their homerooms stand.

Competition among the homerooms helped promote greater interest in scholarship throughout East High. Each nine weeks the Student Council awarded a pennant to the homeroom with the highest average. The Citizenship Committee stressed good attendance, collected food for the needy at Christmas time, chose study hall chairmen and interpreted proper procedure in conducting council election.

CITIZENSHIP COMMITTEE

Second Row: LaMonta Anders, Sharon Baker, Shirley Simpson, Lois Neessen, Carol Jossie, Marlene Venter, Sandra Schmidt, Martha Risser, Marlene Smith.

Third Row: Carol Palmer, Art Baker, Gordon Van Gorp, Paul Morris, Jim Cherry, Roger Walentiny, Bill L. Eastman, Vicki Pals.

Looking Toward

Top ranking seniors in the class of '56.

Regret, Happiness Mingle at Graduation

In the memory books of the class of 1956, June 1 will always recall the night they walked across the East High stage to receive their diplomas.

Speaking on the topic "Now We Are Adults," Dr. Hew Roberts, professor in the college of education at the State University of Iowa, urged students to realize their responsibilities.

Dr. Deane Chapman, of the Grace Methodist Church, preached the Baccalaureate sermon, May 27.

Social activities for the class included the Senior Dinner, May 29 and the Junior-Senior Prom, May 25.

They Chart East's Program

The administrative officials spend many hours working together to develop an effective educational program for East. Through their efforts they provide the best possible facilities and opportunities for students of varying interests and abilities. Their support, guidance and confidence help make East a school of which students can be proud.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

School board members inspect the new homemaking addition during their March meeting. They include E. A. Ralston, secretary; Gordon Spry; Wirt P. Hoxie; Thomas Frey; Dr. R. S. Gerard, president; Stewart R. Seidler; Mrs. H. W. Rehder; Charles H. Dalton and Jack M. Logan, superintendent.

Administrators and their wives support East activities with their attendance and applause. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Logan await the opening of "Mrs. McThing," the fall play.

Miss Jeanette Orsinger, secretary to Mr. Hoffman, and Miss Lorraine Rose, secretary to Mr. Logan, confer on common secretarial problems.

CAFETERIA PERSONNEL

Mrs. Bessie Monroe, Mrs. Geraldine Gardner, Mrs. Grace Grove, Mrs. Viola Walston and Mrs. Mamie Larson.

In addition to classroom and activity program personnel, East High has a group of people little publicized but very important to the welfare of the school. They are the ones who prepare and serve the delicious noon lunches to the more than 700 students who eat in the cafeteria daily. The custodians, too, are indispensable to our daily welfare.

CUSTODIANS

Vivid Visual Aids

Spanish students admire an example of Mexican craftsmanship, a serape.

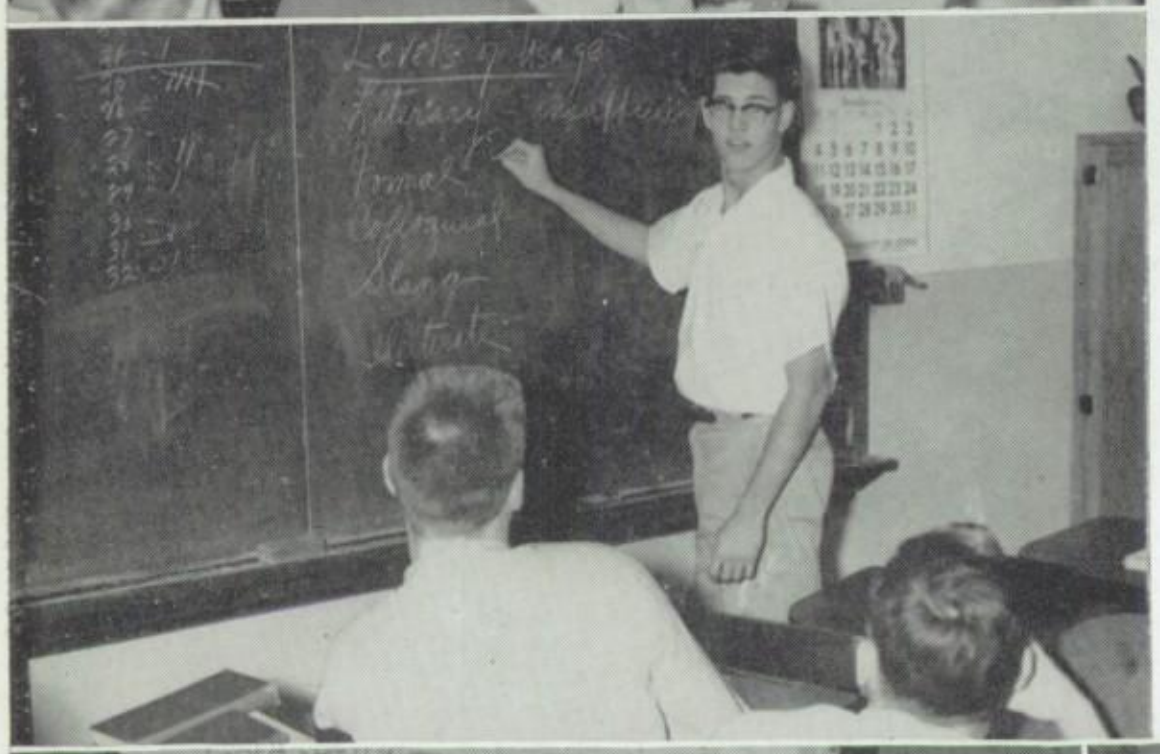
Homemaking classes learn the importance of nutritious meals by checking their diets with the guide chart.

Geometry students ponder the ABC's of congruent triangles which are easier to understand when they appear in diagrams.

Prospective college students know that college prep English provides a vital foundation for advanced composition. Here they demonstrate levels of usage for effective communication.

Senior homemaking girls discover that it's intriguing to sew for youngsters. Tiny Barbie Musgrove models her sister's artistry.

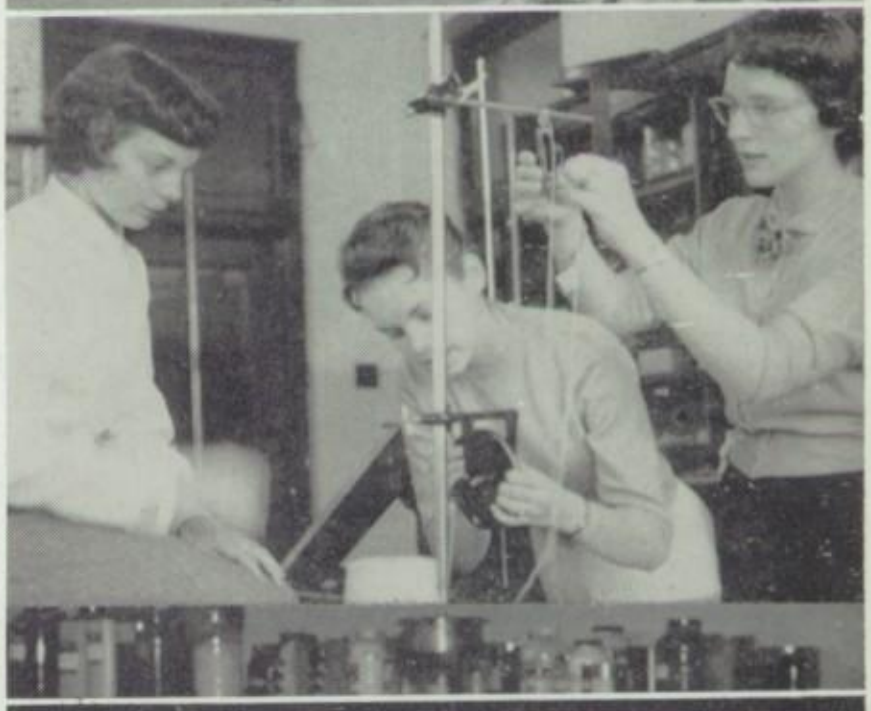
Creative imaginations find outlets in the masks students are designing in art class.



Scientific Pursuits

Biology students use their gray matter to study green matter.

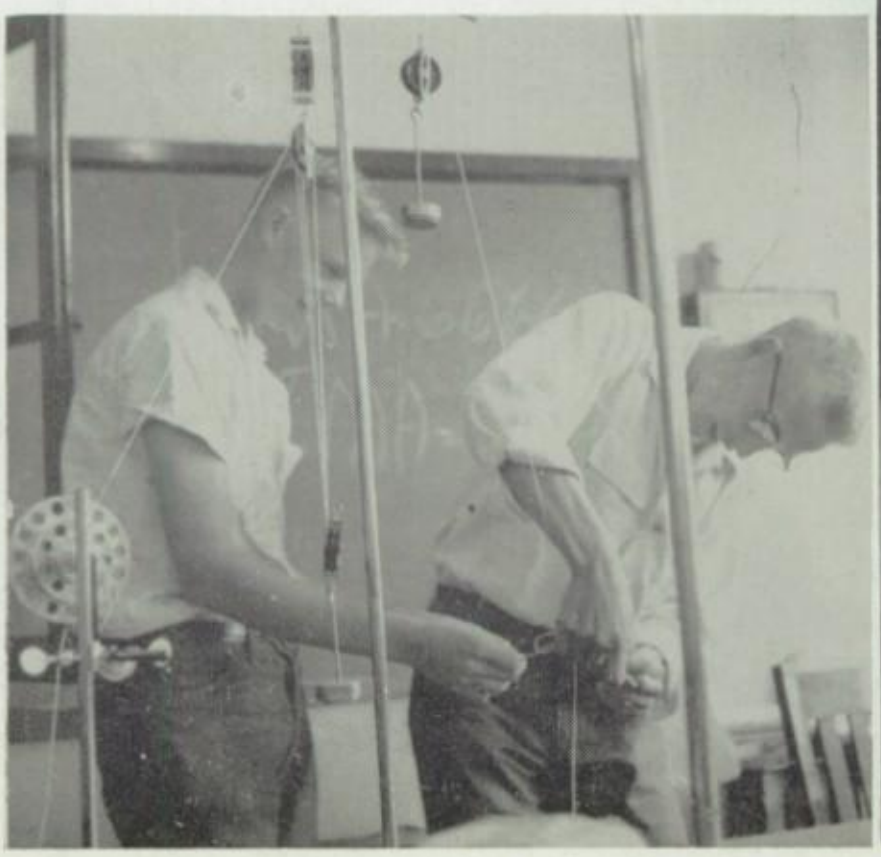
Chemistry classes encourage students to set up their own laboratories and delve into the unknown. Here Sue Hopkins peeks into the microscopic world.



Even girls find pulleys fascinating in physics class.

Chemistry students bend glass to form pipettes as one of their first science projects.

In physics class, boys put knowledge of pulleys into use.



Athletic Agility

It's in! Two more points go in the scorebook for an enthusiastic basketball team in girls' gym class.

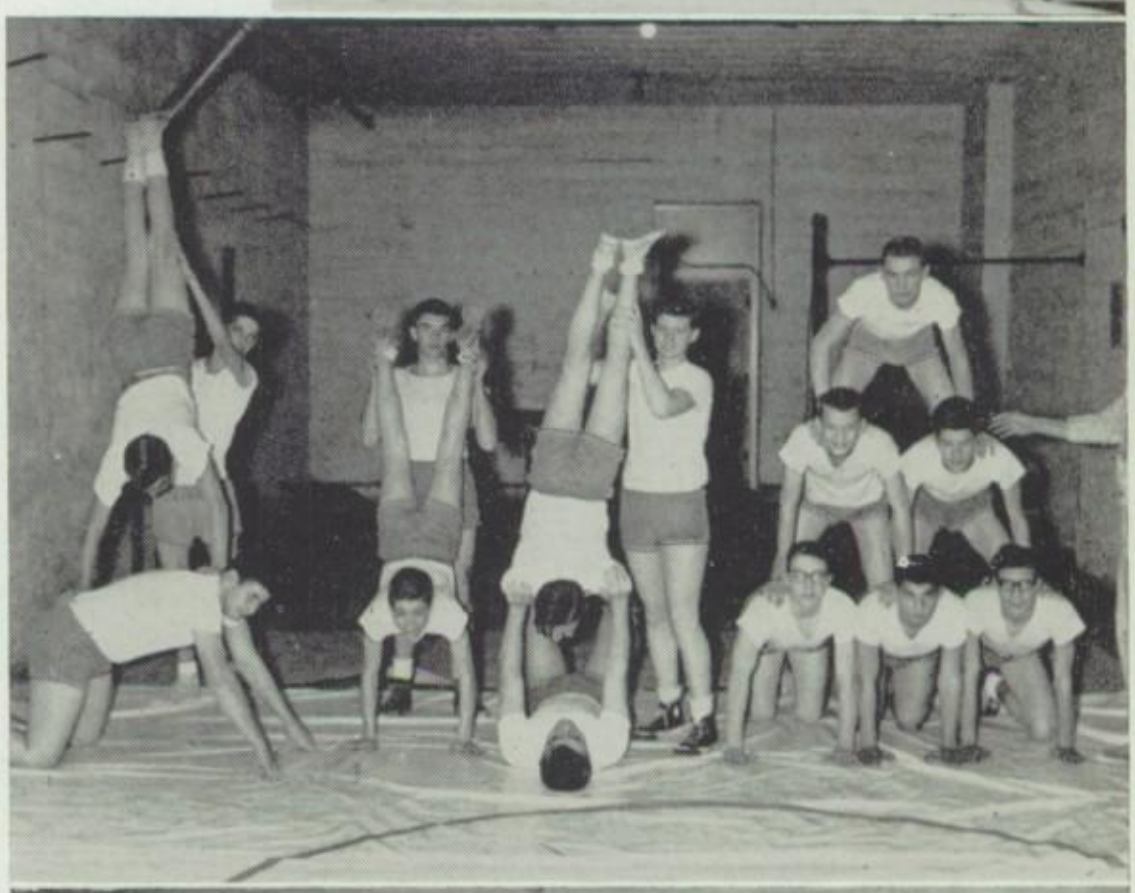
An exciting game of tetherball keeps gym girls on their toes.

Co-ordination in acrobatics often proves necessary for modern choreography.

Modern dancers interpret rhymes and stories which they find in juvenile storybooks.

Muscular Maneuvering

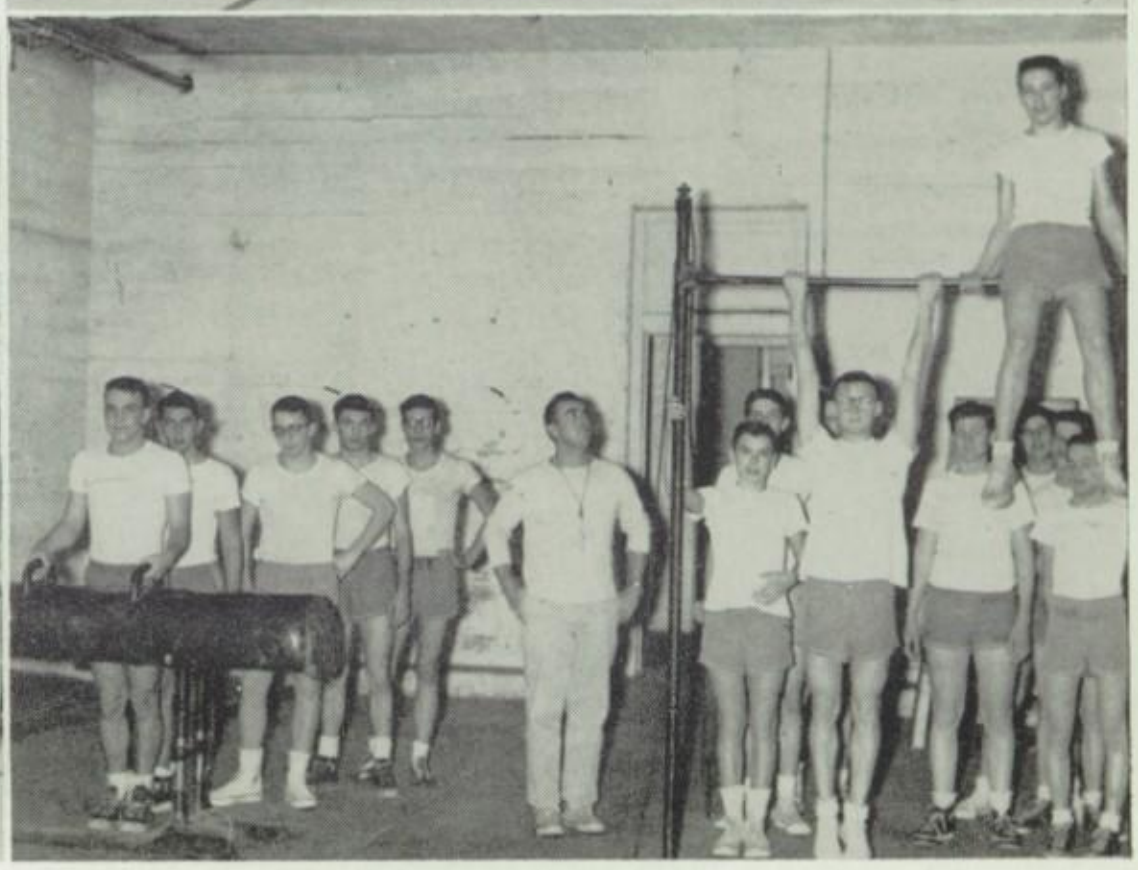
He isn't really walking on the ceiling, but he does find balance is important in jumping on the trampoline.



Boys' gym classes turn Egyptian with their pyramids.

Strong physiques stem from executing aerial manipulations on the bars.

Agility, quick thinking and strength are all put into play when foes tangle in a wrestling meet in gym class.



Business Trainees

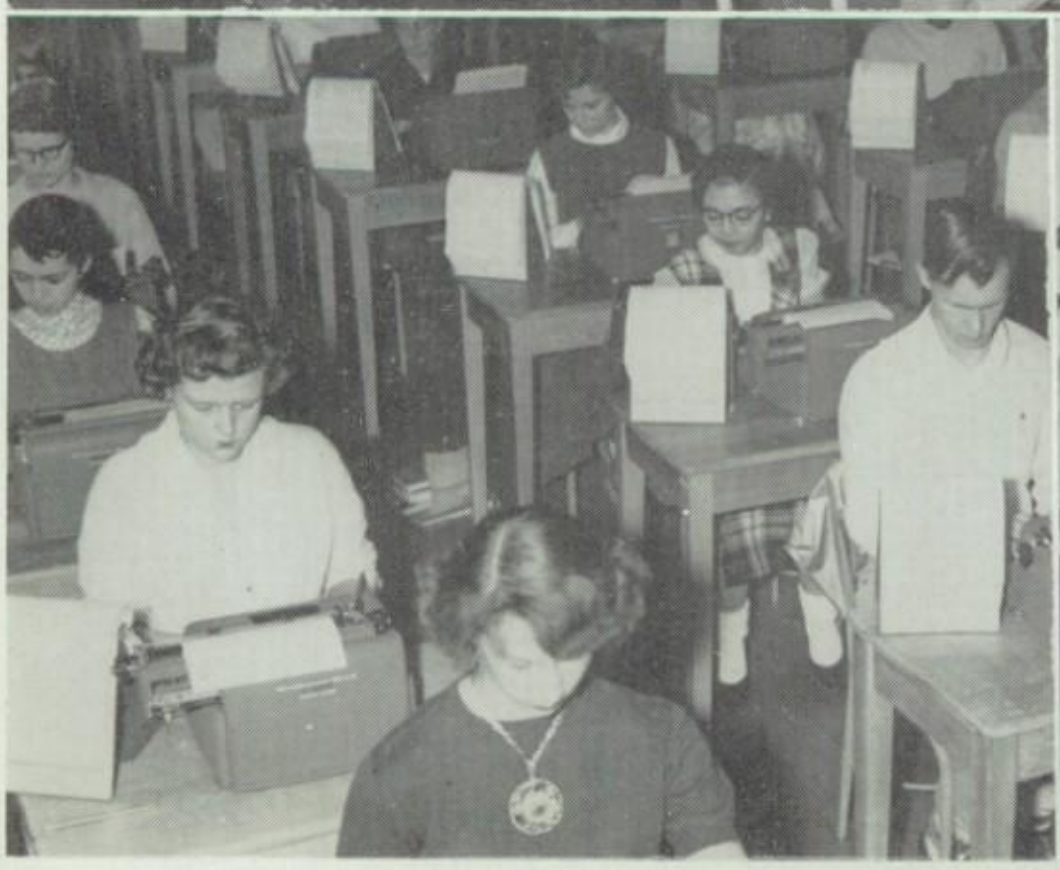
In office practice, students get experience on actual business machines.

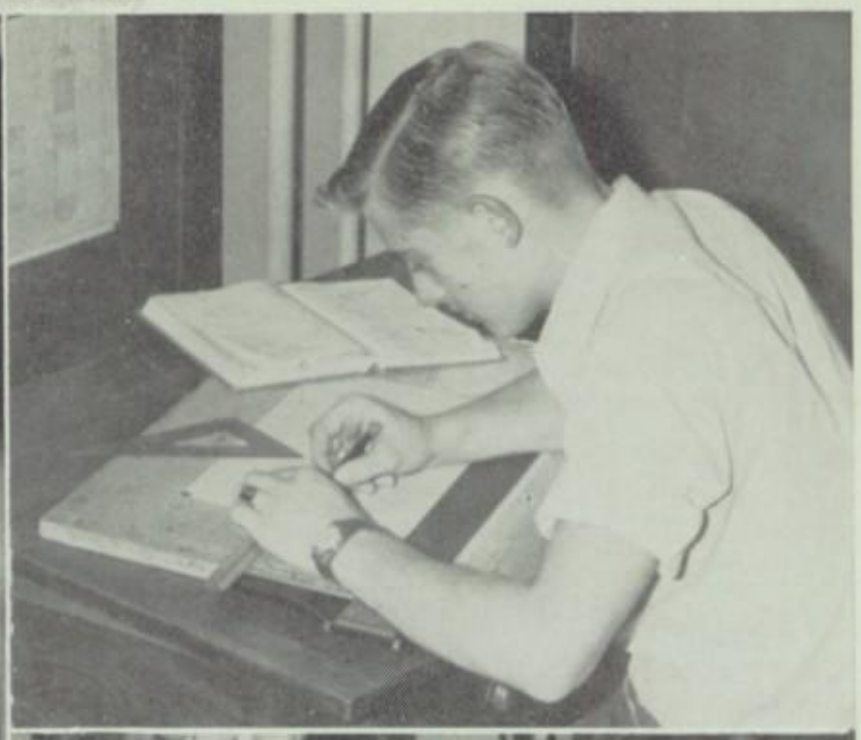
The dictionary and the Iowa Code of Laws are helpful source references in business law.

Filing clerks need to know their ABC's.

Beginning typists strive to boost their speed and accuracy.

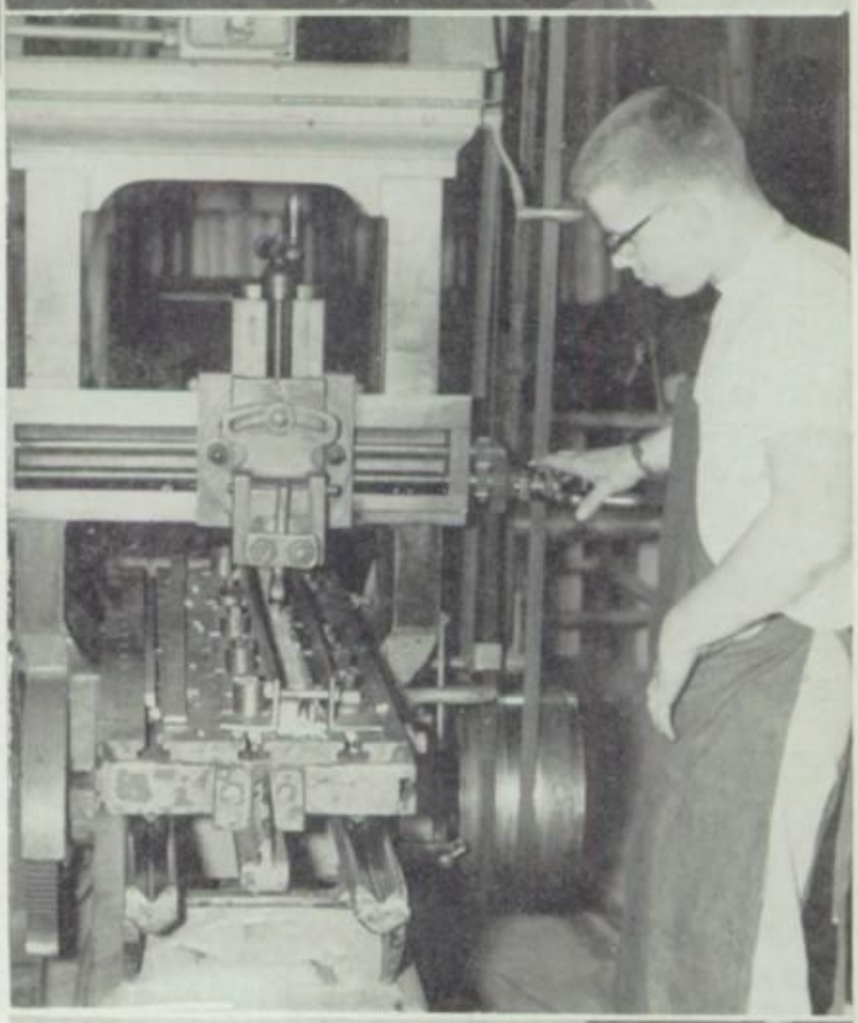
Bookkeeping classes compete for the best-decorated bulletin board.





Practical Productions

Prospective drivers climax training with a license test under a patrolman's surveillance.



Precision and accuracy are essential for the beginning draftsman.

Complicated machines necessitate nimble fingers and sharp minds.

Boys in printing class learn the mechanisms of a platen press while producing useful material for the school.

An attractive cabinet has its beginning in the vocational wood shop.

Mimi, Ellen Shepard, listens to the last words of the Ugly Witch, Martha Risser.

Floyd Neessen as Nelson, Diana Grotegut as Sybil and Janet Foggy as Carrie discuss the family problems.

"Mrs. Mc Thing"

"I'm my mother's little white rose," said Mimi, the central character in the comedy hit "Mrs. McThing," played by nineteen East High students November 10 and 11. Her disarming charm, whether in the home of rich Mrs. Larue or in the dingy atmosphere of the Shantyland Pool Hall Lunchroom, delighted the audience throughout the production.

The trio of not-so-hardened gangsters provided many amusing situations.

As an adventure in fantasyland where witches really exist, the play interpreted the theme of growing children and their relation to perfection-expecting parents.

Experimenting in Vital Fields

Phi Beta Chi is open to all East High students interested in science. It encourages them to express their ideas along scientific lines through using equipment of their own as well as that belonging to the department.

Organized to provide instruction for those interested in photography, the Camera Club shows students ways to improve picture-taking and developing. It gives them an opportunity to learn interesting types of pictures and to view the possibilities for a career in photography.

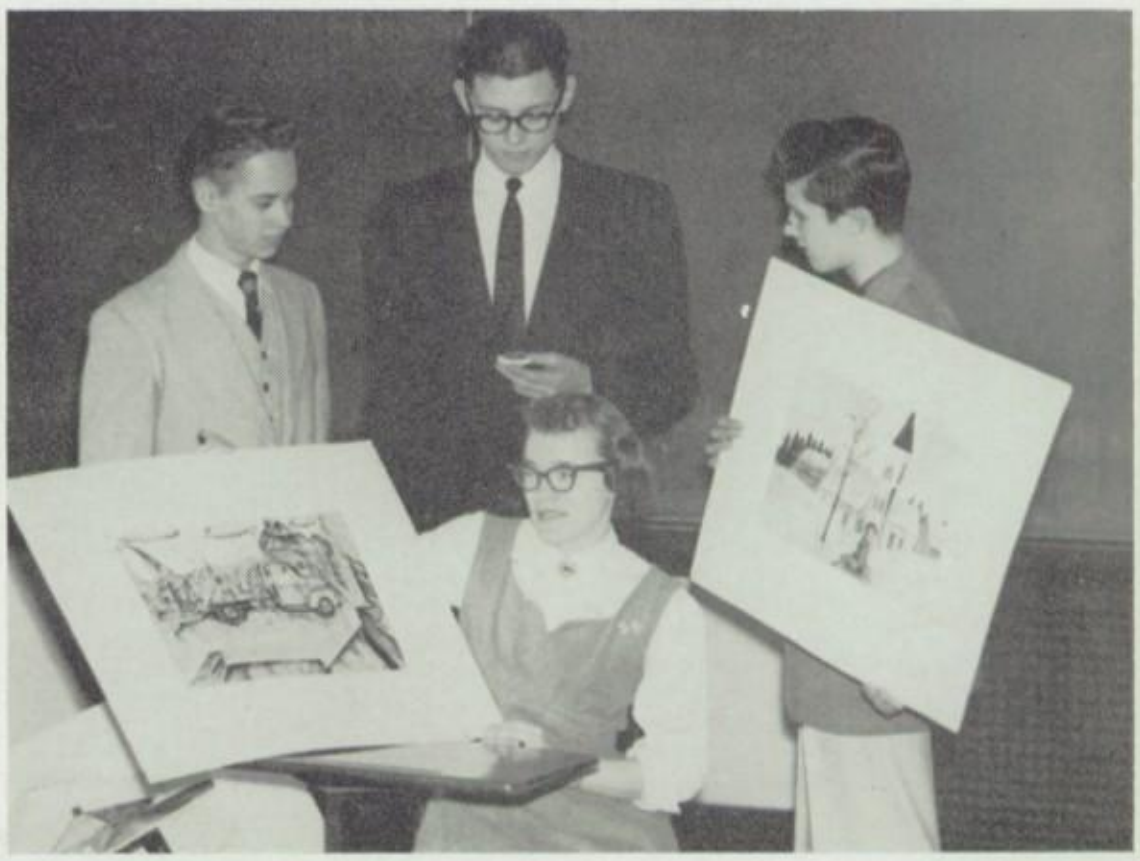
In the Spotlight

As their contribution to the Christmas spirit, East Thespians presented "Boy On the Meadow." Bill Smith, Sharon Bowers, Susan Hopkins listen to Julie Looney tell Ellen Shepard: "The little Jesus has cared for his own. The memory of this little miracle will live with thee throughout thy life time and be a comfort to thee in all thy ways."

Thespian Club, under the direction of Austin Perego, is an honorary national drama society. This club provides an outlet for talented students who participate in drama.

The name "Thespians" comes from the Greek poet, Thespis, who introduced classic Greek drama about 550 B. C.



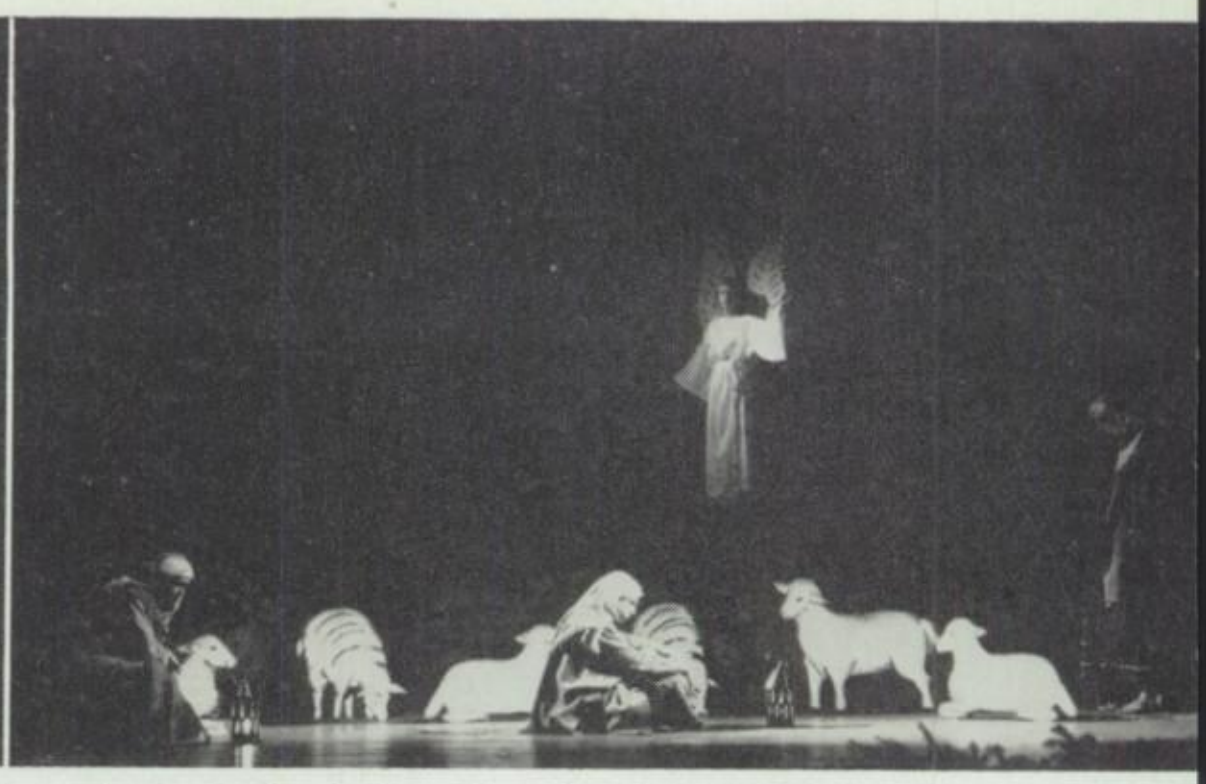
SCHOLASTIC ART AWARDS

Admiring the pictures which have brought them honors in Scholastic Arts competition are Bill Clough, Allen Podhaski, Daryel Hamlin and Marlys Meyne. Not pictured is Jerry Tharp.

This contest, now in its 29th year, encourages art students by recognizing their achievements with gold keys and certificates of merit.

TO NATIONAL COMPETITION

Through experimentation with earthworms, Sue Hopkins evolved this prize-winning entry for the Northeast Iowa Science Fair. It won her and her instructor, Richard Beitzel, a trip to the national fair at Oklahoma City.



Left: Wise men Anthony Reasby, Floyd Neessen and Jerry Hardcastle bring gifts to the Christ Child as Joyce Speicher, Mary; and Wayne Rasmussen, Joseph; keep watch over the manger.

Right: The shepherds gaze in amazement as the Angel tells them of the birth of the Christ Child. Portraying the roles are Ronald Charlton, Tony Anderson and Gordon Van Gorp as the shepherds and Carolyn Reints, the Angel.

"Nativity"

The traditional production by the East High students, the "Nativity," rates high commendation from its audiences. It combines music, pantomime and scriptural interpretation into a dramatic and moving experience.

Silence prevails as the heavenly host gaze upon the Christ Child and the procession of waits kneel before Him in adoration.

STRING ORCHESTRA

Orchestration Brings Pleasure

Under the direction of Robert C. Reeves, the 49-piece orchestra participated in the "Pops" Concert, graduation exercises and the music festival. Guest conductor for the combined East and West festival orchestra was Leo Kucinski from Sioux City, Iowa.

STRING ENSEMBLE

The string ensemble played on several programs for Waterloo organizations. Although the group had no specific practice time, they often rehearsed like this before school. Front Row: Kay Dobson, piano; Julie Sims, Carol Boemecke, first violin; Sharon Burke, Sherrill Inman, second violin. Back Row: Calvin Thompson, bass; Joyce Kollman, Marlene Boerschel, viola; Ellen Shepard, Lady Ford, cello and Mr. Reeves.

"Swing Time" Evolves

● Ideas for the 1956 show evolve at an initial meeting of the planning committee.

● Under the direction of George Leebl, the 20-man building crew worked hard to complete the set.

● The tapline boys practice to perfect their dance in "Zip A Dee Doo Dah."

● With the help of Mrs. Hazel Kuehn, these girls add finishing touches to the colorful costumes.

● The swing band, under the direction of Jerry Johannessen, set the tempos for the show.

● Opening the show in style with "Hear, Hear" are the tapline and swing chorus.

● The jesters' sparkling smiles convinced the audience that love is "The Tender Trap."

● These ten interpretive dancers find that flirting is "Strictly For the Persians" when the Arabs tell them to "Love Me or Leave Me."

● With the clashing of swords and shields, the Roman warriors engage in combat.

● Swing chorus members try to persuade Carol Breckenfelder and Duane Granneman, who have "Time On My Hands," to join them for a "Lullaby in Rhythm."

● Featuring Becky Guernsey as soloist, the swing chorus and tapline closed the first act with "Make Way for Tomorrow."

Colorful Costumes, Varied Acts

● Mary Fellenzer and Jim Wood give an effective interpretation of "Hernando's Hideaway."

● The smooth dance with the fast beat intrigues spectators as these couples dance to "Dungaree Doll."

● The tumblers once again delight audiences with their agility and rate top billing from audience approval.

● Jim Kelsey portrays a handsome "Minnie From Trinidad" as he charms the boys in male chorus.

● Eight spirited ponies give Janice Rodger and Darryll Noble a "Buggy Ride."

● Doing a soft shoe to "Palladium Party," Dick Laylin and Dorothy DaVelaar reflect many hours of practice.

● Karen Norcott amazes the crowd with her synchronized baton twirling.

Characterize 20th Version of Swing

● James Hill, Oren Thomas and Jerry Matz, as authentically costumed Indians, entertain with their rhythmic interpretive dance.

● The "Mickey Mouse March" induced the clowns to mimic Dorothy DaVelaar's skilled acrobatics.

● "Put Your Shoes On Lucy," the girls quintet advises Julie Sims.

● With grotesque masks, these girls show that "Something's Gotta Give."

● Flashing his sparkling smile, Bill Anderson gives his organ rendition of "Tico-Tico" and "Autumn Leaves."

● A spirited "Stars and Stripes Forever" brings the twentieth production of "Swing's the Thing" to a close.

We Cover the News

Editor Dave Kelsen, holding the rule book for good newspaper coverage, confers with staff members Bonnie Shelton, feature editor, Bill Eastman, sports editor, and Cheryl Brown, news editor.

Thirty noses tuned in on the news to help make the Orange and Black live up to its motto of "Leading news of the school that leads."

By practical application of journalism know-how, the students, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Blough, turned out eighteen issues of the paper including two special issues which covered the futures of business education and college-bound students.

Every prospective staff member enrolls in journalism class where he learns journalism from the ground up. Upon "graduating" to paper staff, the journalist may work for entry into the internationally affiliated Quill and Scroll, whose goal is to promote higher qualities of work. To be eligible for Quill and Scroll a student must have one hundred inches of copy or two hundred inches of advertising in print and be in the upper one third of his class scholastically. Quill and Scroll edits the Wooden Horse, East High's yearly creative writing project.

Upper right: Sharon Scully and Kay Dobson get a sneak preview of the Orange and Black as they proofread galleys.

In charge of circulation for the Orange and Black is Gail Porter, exchange editor. Helping to wrap the eighty papers mailed all over the United States and Hawaii is Ken Koonz.

To prepare students for future staff work on the Orange and Black, the school offers a course in journalism. Cub reporters Allen Bolte, Gary West, Suzanne Guernsey and Suzan Hopkins scan the paper for their stories.

Left: All members of annual and paper staff were invited to attend a press banquet. Speaker of the evening was Harry Grove, of the Waterloo Daily Courier staff. Mr. Grove, Principal Charles L. Hoffman and editor Dave Kelsen discuss the future of journalism.

Center: There was good food and lots of it at the press banquet held October 4.

Early last September the Trojan Staff began taking pictures and organizing plans for the 1956 yearbook. Because enthusiasm for our school and its activities was unusually outstanding, the group chose the theme "Cheer, cheer for East Waterloo" to provide continuity for the book.

Eager to produce an exceptional account of the year, the staff worked nights and after school as well as Saturdays to meet picture and copy deadlines.

Following a competition for cover designs, the staff chose the one submitted by Ernie Smith, sophomore student from India. When queried about it, Ernie said he hoped it would convey the idea of the torch of enthusiasm which all Trojans hold high.

The East High School marching band forms the traditional "E" during the East-West football game.

The capability of drum majors Linda Munson and Janice Adams aided East High in developing a precision marching band. Both marching and concert bands were under the direction of James Gordon.

With Precision

Most popular of the many concerts given throughout the year were the "Pops" Concert and the Christmas program. The combined East and West concert bands performed in the annual Music Festival, May 4, under the direction of Dr. Myron Russell, head of the music department of Iowa State Teachers College.

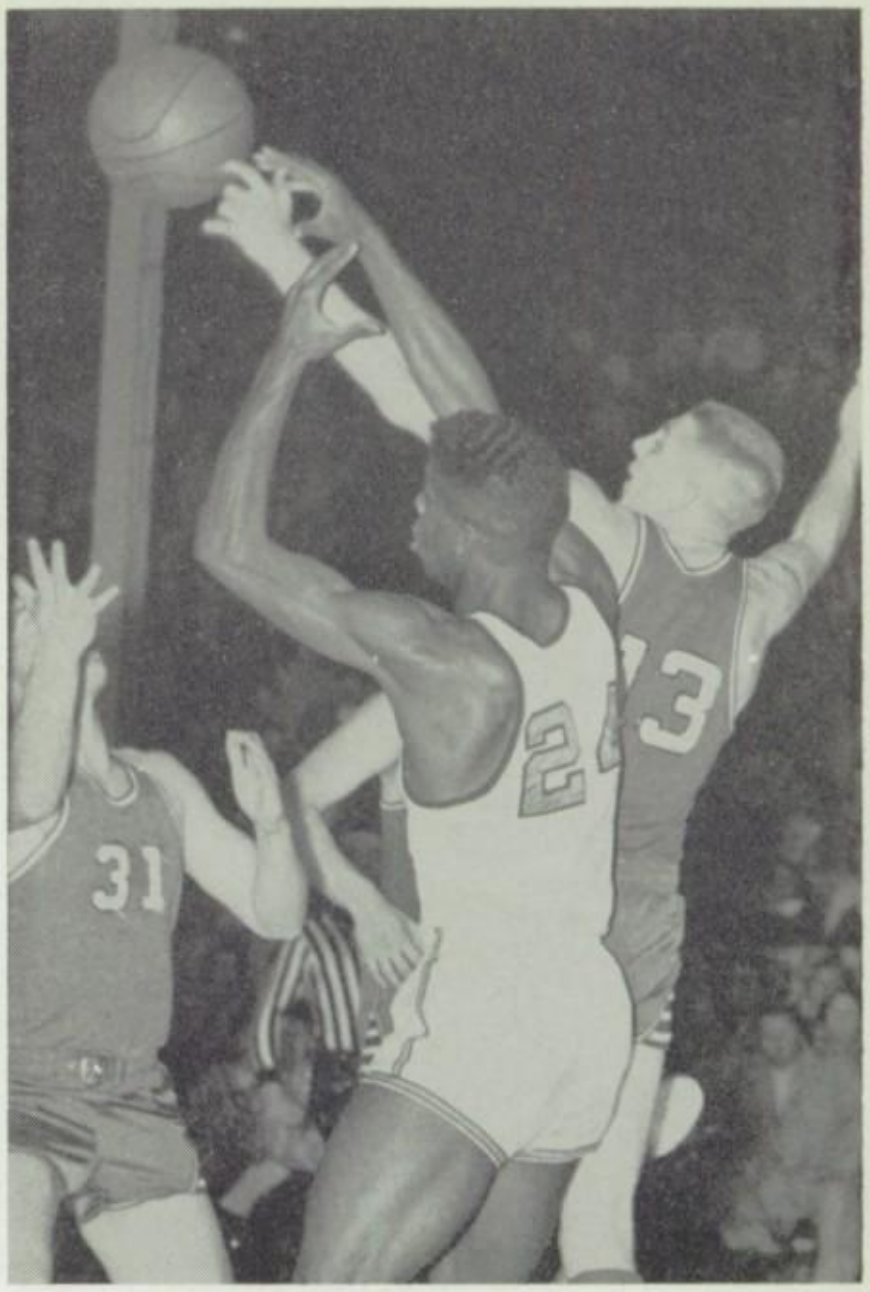
"They're the Greatest"

"They're the greatest," said Coach Murray Wier as he paid tribute to his 1956 cagesters who set new records in Trojan basketball history. Bolstered by five returning lettermen, the East hoopsters compiled an outstanding record of 18 wins and 2 losses. In addition to this, East gained the Big Six title with a perfect record of 10 victories and no defeats. While doing this, they set a new East High record by piling up a blistering 72.5 point a game average.



Jim Jackson, East High's all-stater and all-time scoring record holder, struggles with West's Bob Conway for a rebound.

Primarily responsible for this was "Jumping" Jim Jackson. Jackson set an all-time high by scoring 412 points in one season and registering a 20.5 point a game average. He was one of the finest rebounders in the state and one of the best in the history of East High. In addition, he was honored by being placed on the all-state team.

Wrestlers Post Successful Season

Our Trojan wrestlers surged through another successful season this year winning 10, tying one, and losing only one. The powerful grapplers gained such decisive scores as 47-0, 45-0 and 37-5 over North Des Moines, East Des Moines and Newton, respectively. The one loss was to city rival West, 21-14, and the tie was to Mason City, 19-19.

The matmen took second place in the District Meet and sixth place in the State Meet. The team produced one state champion, Gerald McDonald, at 154 pounds, and one at second place, Dan Carey, at 103 pounds.

The reserves went through an undefeated season, winning eight and losing or tying none. This shows promise of another successful season next year because these reserves will be taking over the varsity posts vacated by the seven graduating letter winners.

Spring Takes Sports Outdoors

The spring sports schedule, somewhat hampered by cold weather, got off to a slow start this year. The Trojan trackmen under the leadership of Coach Don Anderson, captured a first and third place at the State Indoor track meet. The 20 man baseball team being coached by William Waters, won its first game 11-0 over Hudson. The five returning tennis lettermen will form the backbone of the 10-man tennis team coached by Joseph Doyle.
